

BRANDON MUSEUM

Stephen A. Douglas Birthplace

We Invite You To Join Us In Celebrating
The History and Lives Of Early Brandon Residents

- Are you curious about the history of Brandon and her early residents?
- Are you interested in the early Vermont anti-slavery movement?
- Would you like to know more about the early years of Stephen A. Douglas, prominent 19th century American statesman?

The Brandon Museum features early photographs, Brandon artifacts, and fascinating stories about the lives and thoughts of early Vermonters. On display is an 1830s chest of drawers signed by young Douglas, a cabinet-maker's apprentice, which is a wonderful example of the fine craftsmanship of our earliest settlers.

The Brandon Museum and Visitor Center opened in 2009. We invite you to become a Charter Member. By becoming a Member of the Brandon Museum at the Stephen A. Douglas Birthplace, you are helping support the preservation of Brandon History.

This exciting addition to historic Brandon houses a Visitor Center, municipal restroom and is the home of the Brandon Museum. The building is also be available to be rented for private functions.

BRANDON MUSEUM at the Stephen A. Douglas Birthplace

The Douglas Birthplace had been owned by the Lake Dunmore Chapter Daughters of American Revolution for 90 years when it turned over ownership of the property to the Stephen A Douglas Birthplace Community Center, Inc., established in 2007. The 501C3 non-profit organization, affiliated with the Brandon Area Chamber of Commerce and the Lake Dunmore Chapter Daughters of American Revolution, spent two years turning the historic building into The Brandon Museum and Visitor Center. Join us by becoming a Charter Member of our organization. Charter members will receive a members-only exclusive invitation to the Museum when it is 100% completed for a special function. Other membership benefits are being developed.
